

education - strategy - organizing - action - solutions - solidarity

2004

National Conference On Police Accountability

Friday, Oct. 15 - Sunday Oct 17
Native American Student & Community Center
Portland State University, Portland, Oregon
(SW Jackson between Park and Broadway)

Registration $50.00; limited scholarships available
call about group rates or other registration questions

Registration Deadline Extended to September 30*

Co-sponsors include:

National Coalition on Police Accountability (NCOPA), Portland Copwatch
Portland State University Community for Justice

Citizens Alert (Chicago), Communities United Against Police Brutality (Minneapolis), Mothers for Police Accountability (Seattle),

Church Action for Safe and Just Communities (Indianapolis)

Endorsers include: The Albina Ministerial Alliance (Portland), Urban League of Portland,
Portland Peaceful Response Coalition, Portland Jobs with Justice,

American Friends Service Committee (Portland), Sisters of the Road, crossroads, Alliance for Police and Community Accountability (Portland) and Incite! Women of Color Against Violence

With the recent increase in shootings of unarmed civilians and people of color, Portland has become a center of attention in the police accountability movement!

PSU Students/Faculty with ID $30--Special PSU registration deadline October 7*

Registration forms/more information:

N-COPA (Chicago): (312) 663-5392

<http://www.nationalcoalitiononpoliceaccountability.org>

conference@nationalcoalitiononpoliceaccountability.org

Portland Copwatch (503) 236-3065

<http://www.portlandcopwatch.org>

nationalconference@portlandcopwatch.org